About

First Central Asian woman to pursue a PhD in Computer Science & Engineering in the U.S., with a research focus on AI Safety & Reliability, LLM Agents, Human-Centered NLP, and Proactive Learning.

Education

University of Washington Sept 2024–present
PhD in Computer Science GPA: 3.84/4.0.

Advisors: Yulia Tsvetkov, Tim Althoff

Current project: LLM risk assessment framework in mental health conversations under uncertainty

Courses: Machine Learning, Natural Language Processing, Security & Privacy, Data Visualization, AI Agents

American University of Central Asia 2018–2023
Bachelor's Degrees in Software Engineering and Psychology GPA: 3.91/4.0.

Advisors: Almaz Bakenov (SE), Elena Kosterina (PSY), Gulnara Kurmanova (PSY)

Google Research Mentors: Dimitri Kanevsky, Artem Dementyev, Milagros Escredo

Thesis (SE): Application of Artificial Intelligence in Mental Healthcare: GPT-3 and Cognitive Distortions.

Thesis (PSY): Engineering and Estimating Efficiency of the AI Chatbot in Reducing Cognitive Distortions.

Work Experience

Data Engineer May–Oct 2024
UN Women, Europe and Central Asia

Built a pipeline to scrape and process data from state and news websites on femicide cases. Designed, maintained, and documented a database of femicide cases for open-source usage.

Data Engineer Jan–Jul 2024
EPAM Systems

Developed and tested Kafka producers and consumers to handle high-volume data pipelines. Implemented data transformations and aggregations using Spark SQL and DataFrames API. Utilized Azure Blob Storage and Azure SQL Database for efficient and scalable data management.

Machine Learning Engineer Sep 2023–Sep 2024
EIWA, company reached the top-5 result at the Glovo KG Startup Competition (250+ applied)

Post-trained an LLM agent that guides women on medical prescriptions during pregnancy. Applied knowledge graphs to guide decisions on postpartum mental health support.

Machine Learning Engineer May 2023–Dec 2023
USAID WSpark Women in Tech

Implemented AI-driven features, tailoring machine learning algorithms to the Kyrgyz language. Contributed data in Kyrgyz to the open-access projects focused on NLP in Kyrgyz language. Developed, maintained, and optimized server-side applications.

Summer ML Intern 2021, 2024
Neuromatch

(2024) Designed experiments to measure the performance of Hebbian and SoftHebbian learning as biologically plausible alternatives to backpropagation using the MNIST dataset.

(2021) Trained a neural network that recognized with 93% accuracy whether a patient took a language or math test based on fMRI scans (Best Internship Award, AUCA).

Selected Honors & Awards

(2025) Wissner-Slivka Endowed Fellowship

(2024) First-Year Ph.D. Fellowship, Paul G. Allen School of Computer Science and Engineering

(2024) Advanced Data Communications Fellowship, ForSet
(2023) Best Thesis Award, American University of Central Asia
(2023) Outstanding Contribution Award, AUCA Writing and Academic Resource Center
(2023) Best Research Internship, Annual Student Symposium
(2022) CCE Capstone Grant, AUCA Center for Civic Engagement
(2019-2023) Dean's Lists, President's Lists, Highest GPA at the Department
(2018) Golden Certificate Scholarship, President of the Kyrgyz Republic – covers tuition for a bachelor's degree at any university in the Kyrgyz Republic. This scholarship is awarded to individuals who achieve the top 50 results in the nationwide university entrance test, with the recipient ranking 3rd.
(2016) "Abai Kunanbayev" Scholarship, Nazarbayev University International Cooperation Office – awarded for ranking 1st among international applicants.
